A slice of Boston Pizza comes to Georgetown

Boston Pizza officially opened at Halton Village Square on Guelph St. in Georgetown on Saturday.

The restaurant will seat 104 in the dining area and another 68 in the lounge. It's a full service, casual dining restaurant and sports lounge.

The menu features a wide variety of unique pizza creations, a healthy selection of pasta dishes and an enticing dessert menu.

"I fell in love with the Boston Pizza concept after I visited my first restaurant," said operating franchisee Henri Aube. "The next morning I was on the phone with the Director of Franchising trying to start my own."

Aube has lived in the Toronto area for the past 15 years, and says, "I'm looking forward to building relationships within the Georgetown area and making a positive contribution to the community."

The opening has also brought economic benefit—besides the jobs created in the construction of the restaurant, it will support a staff of more than 75.

Boston Pizza International has more than 120 restaurants throughout Canada with sales of $190 million in 1998.
