Golfing... by helicopter

Dave Parkes of Georgetown considers himself an avid golfer but he may never get an opportunity to play another round like this again. Parkes won the Coors Light Dream 18 contest. Transported by helicopter, he played a hole at 18 different ClubLink courses in Ontario over three days, including Georgetown Golf Club, where he was greeted by club pro Richard Sweeting (left). Using his trusty putter 'Angus', Parkes settled for a par after his birdie putt came up short on the seventh hole. "We got the red carpet treatment," Parkes said. "We got to see some pretty nice courses and play a lot of the signature holes."
