UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT NEW OWNERSHIP

Since taking over as owner/operator of Georgetown Boston Pizza May 15, Scott Roach has been very busy enhancing the Guelph Street restaurant that officially opened last November.

"I feel the most significant thing I've brought to Georgetown's location is my Boston Pizza expertise from our western locations," says Roach. "The store was well built in the beginning, but since taking over, I've been able to offer a full service menu, rather than the basic menu it opened with."

"We want to entice customers to try us again, since the menu and service has been improved dramatically. Customer service is very important to us at Boston Pizza," adds Roach. "I hope people will enjoy their visit to our location and be encouraged to return again and realize the full potential of the restaurant."

Roach has taken time to make some upgrades in the location's facilities including resurfacing the sports lounge floor, and minor upgrades to the interior.

Relocating to Georgetown last May from Edmonton, Alberta, Scott, along with wife Angeline and 4 year-old daughter Bailey, is quite excited about making a mark on Georgetown, not only from a business standpoint, but also as a good neighbour.

"I'd like to get more involved in the community," says Roach, "particularly with the local sports groups."

Any sports teams are encouraged to drop by and chat with Roach about ways he can help support and promote their groups.

Now boasting a well-trained staff of more than 40, Boston Pizza is able to offer superb service to its customers. The Georgetown location is open Sunday to Wednesday from 11 a.m. to 2 a.m., and Thursday to Saturday, from 11 a.m. to 3 a.m.
