Red Storm setting sights high

Despite being the smallest school, Acton is setting its sights on the big prize.

Acton's senior boys' volleyball team is the only A school in the Halton Secondary School Athletic Association. While their AAA opponents have the advantage of many more players to choose from, Red Storm coach Rob Tannahill is convinced they can match them in quality.

They showed that in Thursday's match against Loyola, a 25-18, 22-25, 18-16 victory. After taking the first game easily, Acton experienced letdowns in each of the last two games that let Loyola back in the match.

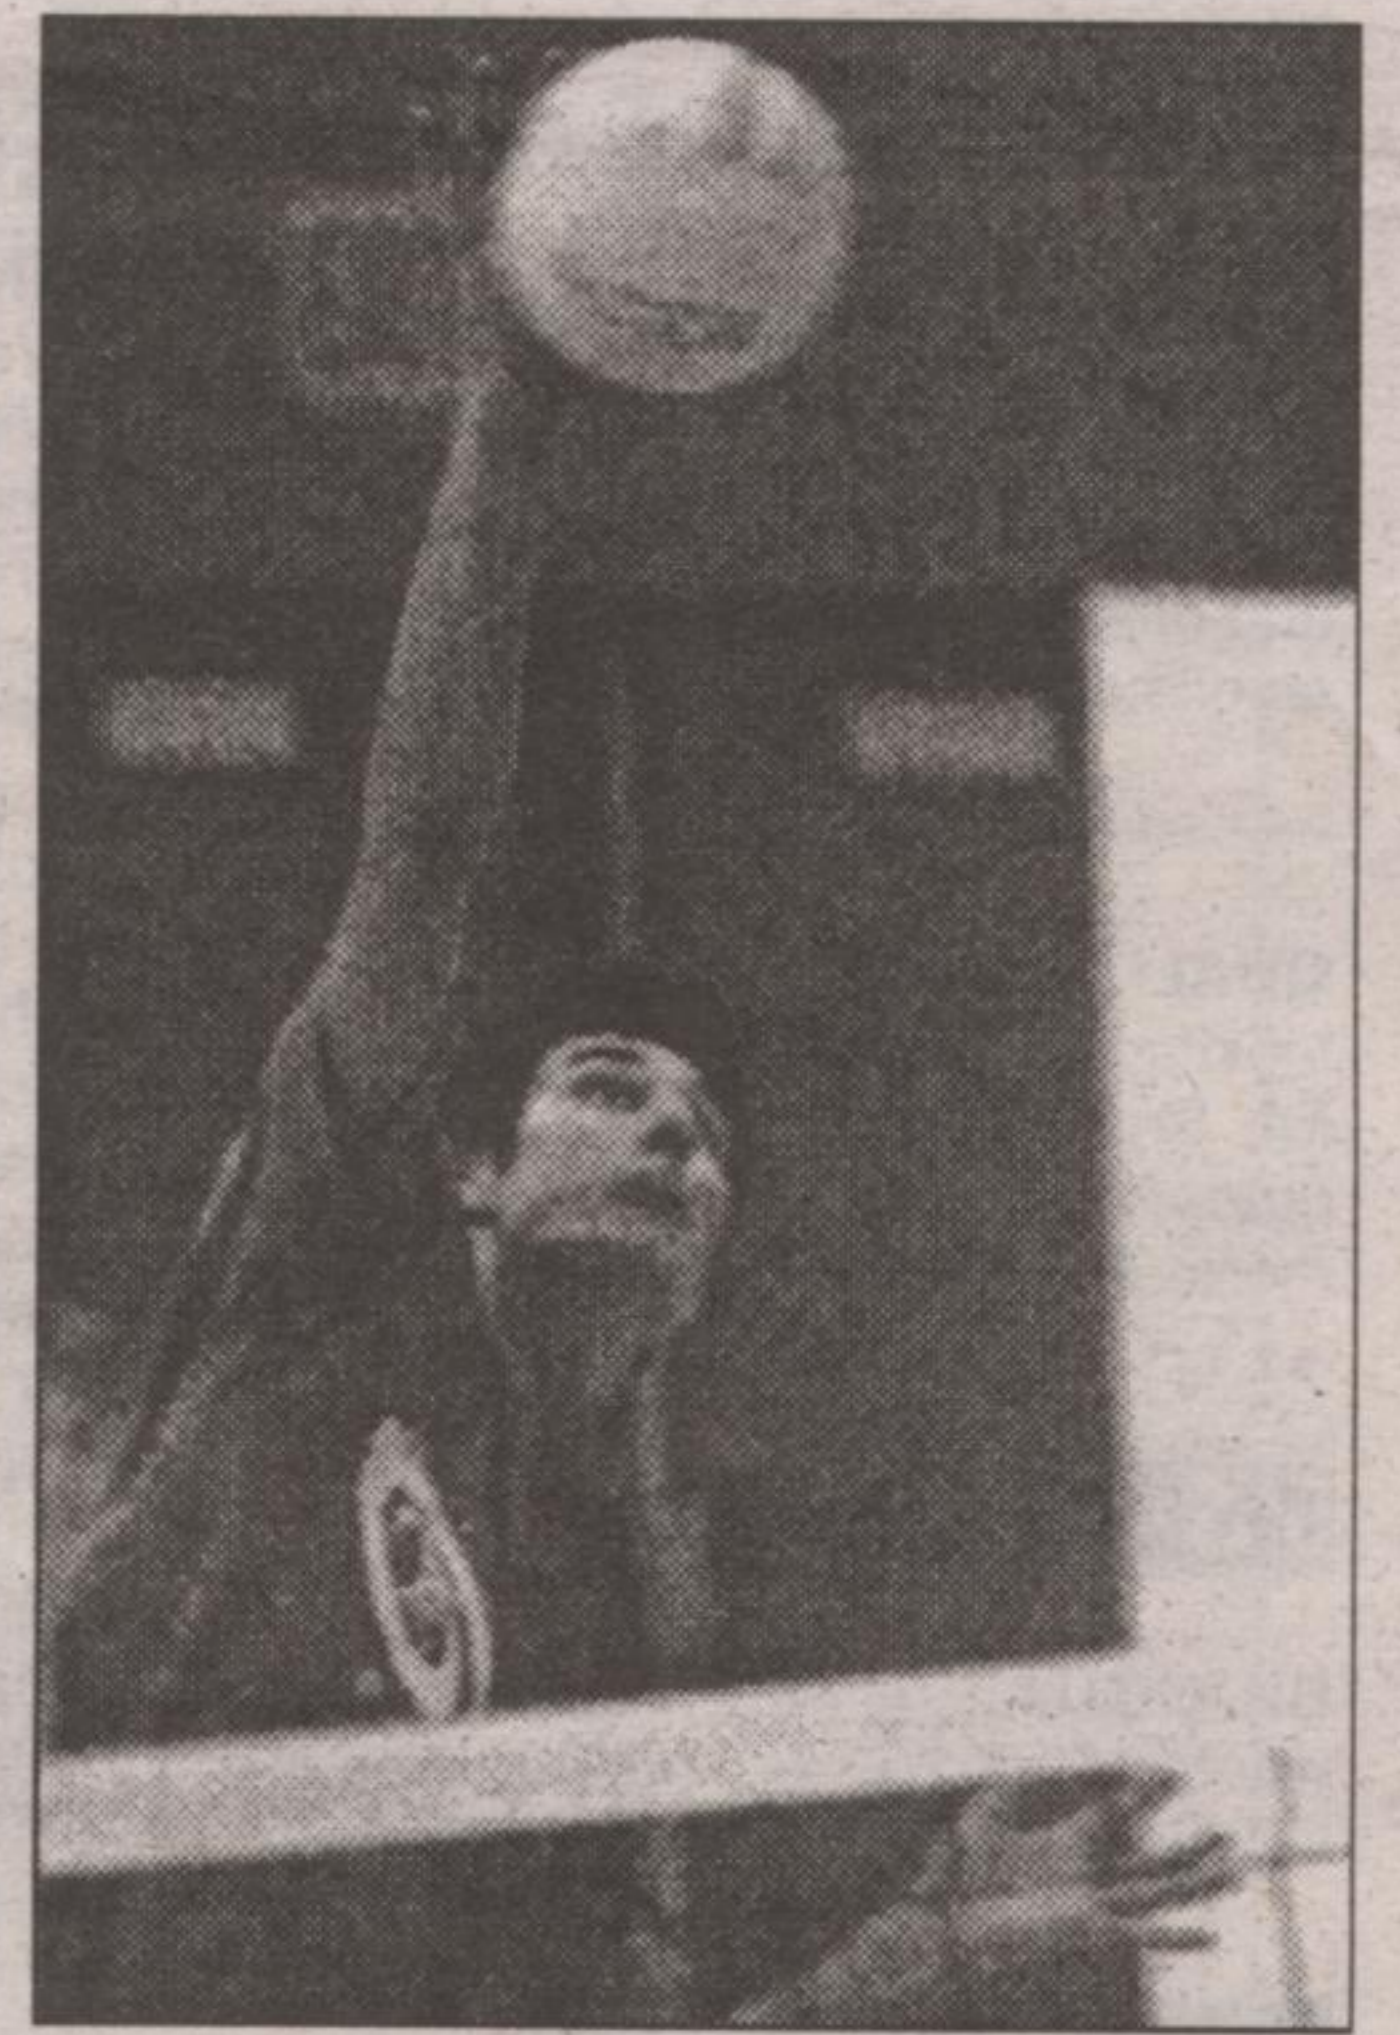

"We just need some time to gel together," Tannahill said.

Asked where he saw the team fitting in, Tannahill quickly responded, "Second to Georgetown and we want to give them a good fight."

Acton almost got their first shot at their north Halton rivals at a tournament at McMaster University. They made the semifinals but were knocked out by Ancaster, denying them the chance to square off against Georgetown, who qualified for the AAA provincial tournament last year, in the final. They'll meet in league play Oct. 31.

Acton has five players returning from its team that came within a point of earning a medal at the Ontario Federation of Schools Athletic Association (OFSAA) A championships.

of goals while Matt Chisholme and Brad Torres each had an assist.

The Raiders also tied their final exhibition game against Milton 2-2. Velten and Shaun Dennie scored for Georgetown. Jordan Jacobs had the only assist.

Minor Pee wee Raiders

Defenceman Jordan McKinnon scored twice to stake the Dan Bodanis Raiders to a 2-0 lead but Brampton fought back to earn a 2-2 tie. Mike Drake set up both Georgetown goals and Holly Williams also had an assist.

Orangeville also rallied from a 2-0 deficit to tie the Raiders 2-2.

Michael LaRose had both Raider goals but Orangeville scored twice early in the third period to erase the lead. Williams and Brent Fraser assisted on the goals.

Novice Raiders

Despite a strong start, the Novice Raiders were blanked 2-0 by Brampton in their season opener.

In exhibition play, the Raiders were edged 3-2 by Burlington with Kyle Murphy and Chad Fellows scoring the Raider goals. Drawing assists were Mark Giordano, Trevor Hill, Kamil Burghardt and Ayrek Crossman.

Marc Drake turned aside 13 shots and Sean Wittman, set up by Murphy, scored as the Raiders tied Caledon 1-1.

Atom II Raiders

The Georgetown Atom II Raiders allowed only one goal as they won their first two games of the season. Mark Walkington posted a shutout in the season opener against Arthur and Jordan Thompson scored twice in the 3-0 win. Brad Williams also scored.

In their first home game, MacKenzie Doell and Williams scored as the Raiders edged Ancaster 2-1.
