

The Glen community prepares for the early arrival of Santa Claus

By ELIZABETH MITCHELL
Glen Williams news

Now that all the Halloween treats have been devoured, our thoughts are turning to Christmas, and sure enough, the Glen is buzzing with plans.

On Saturday, Nov. 18, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. St. Alban's will be holding its annual Christmas Bazaar. Don't miss all the wonderful treats—a white elephant table, crafts, penny raffle, plants, and of course, the irresistible bake sale.

The Glen program of the Georgetown Parent-Child Centre will be having a fundraiser on November 19. Pig Tales books will be for sale during an open house at 22 Oak Ridge Drive from 1 to 5 p.m. There will be lots of books available for infants all the way up to adolescents, and the prices are right—no books over $9.99. Imagine all the Christmas shopping you could get done, and all proceeds benefit a program for children right here in the Glen. For more information, contact Andrea Davis at 702-1038.

You can tell the big day is approaching when there are sightings of the jolly old elf himself—well, don't miss Lunch with Santa on Saturday, Dec. 2. For $5 per child you can come down for a lunch and visit with Santa at St. Alban's church hall, all proceeds going to the Glen program of the Georgetown Parent-Child Centre. There are two seatings at 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. so make sure you get your tickets early, contact the Parent-Child Centre at 873-2960, or come down to the drop-in any Tuesday or Thursday from 9:30-11 a.m.

On to matters political, many thanks to the Glen Williams Community Association for organizing the All-Candidates Meeting last week—there was a great turnout both from the candidates and the voters. Now that we've met the candidates, don't forget to vote on Monday (Nov. 13)—the next council will have a lot of influence in Glen Williams!

Halton Jr. Farmers to mark 85th year

Halton Junior Farmers will hold a 85th Anniversary Celebration, on Saturday, Nov. 25, 6:30 p.m. at the Gordon Alcott Arena hall.

The evening includes dinner, entertainment and dancing. Tickets are $20 each and are in limited supply. Call Debbie Brander, 873-2143.

Sign up for First Aid

The Canadian Red Cross will be holding Emergency and Standard First Aid courses Saturday, Nov. 25 and Sunday, Nov. 26. Learn how to prevent injuries and deliver first aid/CPR with confidence. To register or for more information call 875-1459.

THE GLEN WILLIAMS TOWN HALL BOARD would like to invite the residents of Glen Williams to attend the Annual General Meeting of the Town Hall Board on Thursday, November 16th at 7:30 pm in the historic Glen Williams Town Hall.

Immediately after the general business, elections for the Glen Williams Town Hall Board's executive will commence. Following the election, Mark Rowe, noted town historian will present a slide show highlighting the history of the Glen, from both an economical and chronological perspective.

All newcomers are welcome, especially those wanting to get more active in the community.

Call Mike Parkhill at 905-873-4641 for more information

Guide to the Outdoors

Julie Pomeroy

Lucy Maud Montgomery's appreciation of nature and her love for it's beauty can be found throughout her writings. It is an inspiration to many of us who love the outdoors and can understand how she felt. As she describes a walk through the woods or the intolerable beauty of a winter evening, she teaches us that we should protect nature, not only for the obvious requirements of fresh air and clean water, but for our spirits. Nature can give us strength. "I put my arm around a lichened old spruce and laid my cheek against it's rough side - it seemed like an old friend." Come celebrate nature and LMM's work at Montgomery Country Christmas in Norval, Saturday November 25. Check out the events & the music on the Montgomery page at www.canoe-country.com
