CORRECTION NOTICE

A message from Ontario's public high school teachers and educational workers O.S.S.T.F., District 20 - Halton

The ad, Information for Parents, that appeared in the November 10th edition of the Georgetown Independent and the Milton Champion contained a typographical error:

New curriculum

The implementation has been hasty, without all materials and textbooks ready and without sufficient teacher training. Professional activity days have been reduced from nine to four per year just when in-service is needed most to learn new curriculum and assessment methods. Students who began the new grade nine curriculum last year will be guinea pigs for four years, because curriculum changes will be introduced in each year. Some students have no textbooks and must work from photocopied materials or share textbooks with others.
