Twisters girls tournament opens Friday

First local tournament will see 30 teams compete in seven divisions

The Halton Hills Twisters started as a small organization and has continued to grow in each of its four seasons. But the Twisters are not taking the start small approach with their first tournament.

The Twisters will host their inaugural girls hockey tournament this weekend with 30 teams and approximately 450 players competing in seven divisions.

"It's a chance to sell the Twisters program to the community," said tournament organizer Bruce Andrews. "It's also so kids in town get a chance to play in front of their parents and grandparents."

The tournament opens Friday in Acton with games from 7 to 10 p.m. Games resume at all three Halton Hills arenas at 8 a.m. Saturday, continuing until 6 p.m. at Alcott and 9 p.m. at Acton and Memorial. Sunday games run from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. at Acton and Memorial arenas.

Andrews said getting teams for the first year of a tournament is always the most difficult. He also knows making a good first impression is important.

"A lot of teams make their decisions on going to a tournament based on whether it was a good tournament," he said.

There will be four rep divisions—atom, bantam C, bantam BB and midget B. There will also be three house league divisions—novice, atom and peewee.

"There are not a lot of house league tournaments," Andrews said. "We wanted to cover all the teams we have in Halton Hills and give them the opportunity to play."
