Going... going... soon: annual Kinsmen auction set for May 7

There should be something for everyone on the auction block at the upcoming 17th annual Kinsmen Club TV auction.

Money raised at the auction set for Monday, May 7, 6-10:30 p.m. on Cogeco Cable TV, will go to the local motion campaign for the twinning of Alcott Arena and the new recreation centre in Georgetown South. The Georgetown club has set a target of raising $75,000 for the campaign over five years, and is currently ahead of schedule.

Kinsmen Club Project Chairman Bryan Whitteker said they are hoping to raise $20,000 this year.

"It continues to be our number 1 fund-raiser and we hope we're going to raise more than we did last year," said Whitteker.

Some of the items that will be up for bid include a six-person Galileo spa valued at $5,750 from Emerald Isle Bedroom Gallery, a round of golf for three including carts at North Halton Golf and Country Club, valued at $300, a $400 Deacon's bench from Butcher's Furniture, a civilian ride-along with a Halton Regional Police patrol officer and a training session at the Halton Police firing range valued at $1,000 each, a Dewalt Combopack cordless drill/driver and saw kit from Canadian Tire valued at $589, five-and-a-half hour ladies tranquility spa experience at Adamson Spa and Salon valued at $249, Free Agent Champ BMX children's bike from Ollie's Cycle and Ski Ltd. valued at $200, Yamaha Digital Percussion Machine valued at $214 from Pinecone Music Studios and gift certificates from several local businesses.

As they were last year, items up for auction can be viewed on the Internet at kinsmen.stn.net. A brief description is provided and people can enter an advance bid at the site.

Anyone interested in donating an item to the auction should call Whitteker at 905-873-9849.
