

The show goes on

Members of Halton Hills Summer Program Theatre Camp took their audience to Schwerner Brothers Studio, a place where things were a little different from the norm as they performed We Couldn't Think Of A Title, So We Had To Go With This! Among those wowing the crowd were (above) Alex Filice, alias the Sock Hunter, as he was consumed by a man-eating Maytag washer in his quest to find all the lost socks. At left, his brother Andrew gave a song and dance routine.

Exchange students to hold charity car wash this Saturday

Five exchange students are participating in a charity car wash, co-hosted by the Rotary Club of Georgetown, in the Zellers parking lot at Georgetown Market-place on Saturday, July 28.

Proceeds will go to Halton Women's Place.

The five, from Chambly, Quebec, are part of the Summer Work—Student Exchange program while their five north Halton counterparts are working in Quebec.

During the six-week program the 16 and 17-year-olds are living with host families and work full-time using their second official language.

The five Quebec students have been placed in various jobs at the Town of Halton Hills, Conservation Halton's Crawford Lake and Halton Region's Allendale.

They are among 850 students from across Canada who are participating in the federal government program.

This is the first time north Halton students—including Jenn Landry and Julia Noguera from Georgetown—have participated in the exchange.

The charity car wash is part of a volunteer day set up by the program to thank their host community. It will be held 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The Rotary Club will be providing extra volunteers and necessary supplies.
