Communities in Bloom contest

Town appeals for last-minute cleanup

The Town of Halton Hills is appealing to local businesses to tidy up their exteriors Monday, Aug. 13 in preparation for judging in the Communities in Bloom competition.

Judges for the contest will be in town Tuesday, Aug. 14. The Communities in Bloom event is a non-profit Canadian beautification project which awards municipalities for their overall tidiness.

Local businesses, and residents too, are being encouraged to help the town put on its best face by:

- participating in a town-wide cleanup Monday, Aug. 13
- decorating rural mailboxes
- adding window boxes
- making sure the front of the business or home is clean (swept, windows washed, plants are healthy, etc.)

• purchasing a Communities in Bloom flag from the Town of Halton Hills (905-873-2602 ext. 2274) for only $14

The town is especially encouraging businesses located on the following streets to participate in the competition since they will be on the judging route.

Acton—Queen St., Young St. Mill St. River St., Alice St., Elgin St., Bower St., Elizabeth Dr., Birchway Pl., Main St., Willow St.

Georgetown—Halton Hills Dr., Maple Ave., Charles St., James St., Market St., Park Ave., Main St., Mountainview Rd. N., Argyll Rd., Hwy. 7.

Glen Williams—Main St., Confederation St., Mountain St., Wildwood Rd., Oak Ridge Dr.

Norval—Hwy. 7, Adamson Rd., 10 Sideroad.

For more information contact Mayor Kathy Gastle at 905-873-2601 ext. 2342 or Warren Harris, manager of parks and cemeteries, ext. 2274.

Cultivating a welcome

Acton BIA executive director Josey Murray, Halton Hills Mayor Kathy Gastle and Acton Horticultural Society member John Creasey were on hand to check out the new flower bed at the corner of Hwy. 7 and Hwy. 25. Visitors entering Acton from the west will be greeted by the permanent flower bed, as several volunteers have created it over the past few weeks. Although it was created as part of the Community in Blooms competition, the flower bed will be maintained as a permanent fixture. The work has been shared by the town, Tuitmans Garden Centre, Acton Horticultural Society and Acton BIA.

Watering Falls

Kim Falls has been busy this past week as she cares for the downtown Georgetown planters that grace Main Street. Falls is working on the flower beds as an employee of the Downtown BIA, and is keeping them looking great for the upcoming Communities in Bloom competition.
