

In search of the great pumpkin

So many pumpkins, so little time. Although time is running out for trick or treaters to get that perfect pumpkin, Kylie Nadon, 5, was comparing the many shapes and sizes at Augusto Sales' pumpkin patch on Trafalgar Road, north of Georgetown late last week. The pumpkin crop was a bit smaller as a result of the dry summer, but there were still lots to pick from for Jack 'o lanterns.

Rotary Club looking for students interested in Youth Exchange program

The Georgetown Rotary Club is looking for young people interested in becoming Rotary Youth Exchange students.

Rotary exchange students spend a year, or perhaps just an extended period of time, living with a host family in a country other than their own.

They may learn a new language, and they will learn a new way of living and a great deal about themselves.

The youths will serve as young ambassadors for Canada and help to bring the world closer together. Through the local youths the people they meet will learn more about Canada, its culture and the youths' ideas.

Each year approximately 7,000 students worldwide aged 15 to 18 participate in the program.

The deadline for applications is Saturday, November 10.

Anyone interested should check out the program at http://www.rotary.org/programs/youth_ex/ and then call Alistair MacEwan at 905-877-0462.
