UNITED WAY OF HALTON HILLS

features

Halton Hills Community Support and Information (HHCSI) is a non-profit, multi-service organization supporting people of all ages in the development of a caring and responsive community. Within our organization, we provide services to seniors including Meals on Wheels, Telephone Assurance, Friendly Visiting, Supportive Housing, and much more. In addition to our wrap around services, our Family Resource programs are available to families and caregivers and include parent education, drop in and networking programs, a toy lending library, and a Young Parents program. The "Open Door" and "Off the Wall" youth centres provide a place for socialization, activities, and events for the young people of our community. As a community information centre, HHCSI can provide support to those searching for information. We connect people to meals, shelter, and refer them to other services needed. Transportation is also available for training, education, shopping and other destinations. While our seniors and children's programs receive some funding from government sources, it is the United Way that supports the unfunded youth and community support programs. Supplemented by fundraising and private donations. All proceeds raised by the United Way stays in Halton Hills. The Board of Directors and staff of Halton Hills Community Support and Information thank the United Way of Halton Hills for their on-going and generous support.
