Local businesses contribute to Hornby sign

The Hornby Association of Rate Payers (HARP) held its annual general meeting recently with Erik Kowal, Ken Lawday, Jim Snow, Einar Voldner, Barbara Dixon and John Roskam elected to the executive board.

The board will be meeting soon to elect executive positions. Current president, Erik Kowal presented a plaque to Jim Snow to thank him for past and continuing support of the association.

The President's report included the successful June 2001 Clean-up day in which more than 2,000 pounds of garbage was removed from hamlet's roadsides and creeks. The date for this year's clean up day is April 27, starting at Hornby Park at 9 a.m.; volunteers Norm and Marge Sandluk, again offered their services. Guest, Councillor Rick Bonnette once again offered to assist this year.

Drawings prepared Willowcreek Landscaping for the proposed Hornby sign were distributed and a list of contributors mentioned: Willowcreek

Landscaping, FL Signs, Dufferin Aggregates, Fishburn Proctor Ltd. have offered services and materials for free or at discounted prices. Research into the settlement date for Hornby was been investigated, and the date of 1821 seems to be plausible.

Bonnette also discussed the Halton Hills' rural cluster review. An upcoming public meeting (date to be announced) is crucial to the future of Hornby, and all area residents were encouraged to attend. The meeting will discuss all rural clusters in Halton Hills with an emphasis on Hornby and its proximity to the Hwy. 401 Corridor. Also, based on concerns raised by HARP, the recycle container station at Hornby Park now has two containers.

Open forum from the members brought up issues such as unsightly properties at the entrances to Halton Hills, traffic on Steeles Ave. as an alternate for Hwy. 401 has become a routine and was questioned when improvements can be expected.

In training

The Leaders in Development program held recently at Acton Community Centre provided training for volunteers who will be helping out at the town's Recreation and Parks summer camp programs. Trying out a game devised by youths participating in the training session were instructor Laurie Ball (in front) and Sarah Yiu.
