Important Infant Safety Hazard Notice

Zellers has learned of a potential safety hazard with a denim overall sold under its CHEROKEE® brand. The denim overall is made of 100% cotton, with corduroy patches on the knees and front pocket of the chest bib. The word "Cherokee®" is printed on the inside label.

The shoulder straps fasten to the chest bib with metal buckles and shank buttons. These buckles and buttons can become detached from the garment, posing a potential choking hazard to young children.

The denim overall was sold as part of a two-piece set with a long-sleeved shirt. It was available in sizes three months to 3X at Zellers stores across Canada beginning in October 2001, for $24.99 (or less when on sale).

Although there have been no reported injuries, customers who have purchased this denim overall should stop using it immediately and return the item to any Zellers store for a full refund.
