Groovin' at GDHS

The mood was mellow when Georgetown District High School held its annual coffee house in the library Wednesday, with teachers and students taking part offering poetry, prose, music and dance. Teacher Bill Gabourie (left) gave the group a sampling of electric blues, while student Keri Hoffing (above) added a mellow acoustic sound to her vocals.

Tickets still available for mind-bending magic show

The John Elliott Theatre will be transformed into a time machine by Ted Outerbridge, magician extraordinaire, with his show, Magical Moments in Time, on Saturday, May 25 at 8 p.m.

This internationally-acclaimed magician is touring Canada, and in Halton Hills, the show will be a benefit for Literacy North Halton, a volunteer group that works with people who have problems with reading and writing.

Outerbridge and Marion team up to present a show filled with mind-bending illusions, comedy and whimsy. This is great family entertainment.

Tickets are available at both branches of the Halton Hills Library: $18 for adults, $12 for children (age 12 and under).

For more information call Literacy North Halton, 905-873-2200.

Sparks will be flyin' at Canoe Country as we welcome back the creator of our 6' wooden bear, Peter Mogenson, Chainsaw Carver extraordinaire at Riverfest on Saturday, May 25. Peter charges $100 per foot of carving. If you would like something carved, please call. 905-846-5000. Come visit the Llamas of Wyldewood Llama Treks the same day. For 5000 years Llamas have accompanied the peoples of South America through the harsh climate and rugged mountains of Chile and Peru. Bred for their calm dispositions and carrying abilities. Decades ago North American outdoor enthusiasts discovered the llamas eco-friendly qualities and backpacking abilities making them ideal hiking buddies. Hiker Mike Kerby! will sign books at 12:00.
