Lobster lovers

Bruce Tavender of Georgetown obviously was never told not to play with his food. Tavender and his wife Wendy were among the dozens of people who turned out for the recent East Coast Style Cold Lobster Dinner at the Salvation Army Church. Proceeds from the event went to the church's building fund.

Rotary hosts exchange

The Georgetown Rotary Club hosted 26 youths from around the world at a special Youth Exchange Weekend held recently. The youths, who boarded with local families, were treated to a dinner at Ares Restaurant, visited Crawford Lake, bowled at Georgetown Bowl and had social time with local host families. The Georgetown club, led by youth exchange officer Alistair Macewan (far right) is a big supporter of Rotary's youth exchange program and the club is currently hosting a teen from Ecuador and have sent a Georgetown youth to France for a year.
