Walkerton report recommendations supported by CH

Conservation Halton (CH) strongly supports the recommendations in the second part of the Walkerton Inquiry Report that calls for the protection of Ontario's drinking water be done on a watershed basis.

The recommendations are consistent with the position of Conservation Ontario which represents the network of conservation authorities, including Conservation Halton, throughout the province.

The 36 conservation authorities currently manage watersheds that include 90 per cent of Ontario's population.

"Conservation Halton is pleased to see Commissioner O'Connor call for an expanded role for Conservation Authorities in water management. This report also provides a strong framework for the protection of the province's drinking water," said Conservation Halton chairman Jean Williams.

MOSQUITOES! Protect yourself naturally. Bug-Me-Not Headnets are made out of rugged 100% polyester No-see-um mesh that also offers up to 64% UVB protection. You can put them over your own hat for head and neck protection. They stay on with elastic bands that fit under your arms. $9.95. The Bug Beater Jacket is made out of the same material and sells for $19.95. They are about as well ventilated as you can get in a bug jacket. The Original Bug Shirts are excellent quality and now come in a sandstone polyester. They are tougher than the Bug Beaters if you are in bush or backcountry where you don't want to risk rips or tears, but a little bit warmer too. $59.95. We also offer a number of natural insect lotions if you don't want to use products with DEET.
