Gala kicks off mall opening
