Williams Mill artists open doors this weekend

The artists of the Williams Mill Creative Arts Studios present an exhibit From Mind to Hand, opening on the weekend of October 5-6, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The event celebrates the artistic processes by which raw materials and raw inspiration are transformed to fine crafts and artwork. Visitors can visit some of the more than 30 artists in their working studios. The exhibition continues in the Gallery until October 14.

The Williams Mill Creative Arts Studios and Gallery is located at 515 Main St., Glen Williams. For more information call 905-873-8203, www.williamsmill.com

Is it Puff, the Magic Dragon?

Not everyone has a 400 lb. dragon hanging about, but Holly Ferguson has one in her studio at Williams Mill, a project she has been working on since January. The sculpture, covered in winterstone, is created from 80 feet of steel armature, and 150 feet of styrofoam. The dragon, which is suitable for outdoor exhibit, will be among the numerous creations in an upcoming exhibit at the Williams Mill Gallery entitled Dragons to Dragonfly: A Journey, a show which Ferguson will collaborate with artists Dawn Schertzl and Terry Antoniewicz. The show opens Oct. 15, with the artists' reception Oct. 18, from 6 to 9 p.m.

Q: Why did the chicken cross the road?

A: To live longer.

By walking across the road, the chicken gained a healthier heart and lungs... and a positive attitude.
