

Eye on Art

Kim Hanna

Kim Hanna has been operating Terra Cotta Flowers for 10 years and is well known locally having done many weddings in the Georgetown area.

The company, which was founded by two childhood friends, Hanna and Judy Corrigan, originally was located in Corrigan's Terra Cotta home. When Corrigan and her family moved to the United States, Hanna moved the business to her Georgetown home where she has been working independently ever since.

The Christmas season is always an exciting time for Terra Cotta Flowers. For the last eight years, Hanna has hosted a Christmas Open House and Sale which includes seasonal and every day items. You'll find Hanna's mom in the kitchen with her home-baked cookies and squares, brewing coffee and apple cider for all. It's a fun time and a chance to visit with old friends and welcome new ones. This year's dates are November 16 and 17, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at her home, 71 Charles St., Georgetown.

Hanna is always developing her expertise in many different design areas and is currently expanding into the custom home designs. Her works can be viewed at Artisan's Attic, located at 73 Main St. in downtown Georgetown. Hanna also has an extensive photo portfolio which she would be happy to share with clients. This may assist in planning floral designs and decorations specifically tailored for individual spaces. Hanna will meet with clients in their homes.

"My customers are the greatest people anyone could hope to work with and I thoroughly enjoy my relationship with them, either while doing business or just meeting on the streets around town," said Hanna. "I appreciate their continued support with repeat business using my services to enhance their homes and lives." To contact Hanna call 905-877-9472.

Art Effects Gallery and Framing Centre

World famous artists have visited Art Effects Gallery and Framing Centre, but the 16-year-old business also loves to showcase local artists.

The walls of the Art Effects are hung with limited edition prints by many internationally famous artists who have also held shows at the 348 Guelph St. gallery: Robert Bateman, Terry Isaac, Carl Brenders, John Seery-Lester, Alan Hunt, Jim Daly, Sir Peter Robson. Local artists who have also held shows at the gallery included Laura Kingsbury, Linda Donais, Bill Saunders and David Ward.

Other work displayed included Trisha Romance, M.G. Smith, Scott Taylor, Laura Berry, D.R. Laird, Ken Danby, and Georgetown artists Shirley Deaville, R.A. Finlayson, and Robert Law.

Framing memories is a specialty at Art Effects and through the years have framed everything from medals and sports jerseys to weddings invitations and old photos— even a sword. Framing is done right on the premises and now is the time to think about framing for the coming holiday season.

Art Effects' success is largely due to its complete dedication to its customers by competent customer service, creative concepts in framing, expert conservation methods and guidance to help customers bring their ideas to life.

Everyone is welcome to drop in, say hi and browse. For more information call Barry Bell, 905-877-7491.
