

Skating for playground equipment

Harrison School students (from left) Spencer Kardash, Cassie Lloyd and Brittany Leonard took to the ice at the Mold-Masters SportsPlex in the school's annual Athlon. Students had a choice of walking, biking, skipping, bowling, skating or reading to help raise money for new playground equipment. The event has so far raised $2,750 with money still being collected.

Halloween candleholders recalled

Danson Décor Inc. has recently issued a recall of Halloween candleholders and Health Canada is currently investigating a similar product, which may result in another recall.

In a communiqué to the Halton Hills Fire Department the Office of the Fire Marshal said the candleholders, which are frequently sold in discount stores, are often shaped like pumpkins, skulls or vampires. Flames from lit candles placed in the holder have been known to ignite the entire holder. Several small fires resulting from the use of the holders have been reported to fire departments.

The Fire Marshal recommends candles or open flames be used with extreme caution, especially at Halloween when large numbers of children wearing bulky or possibly flammable costumes are trick-or-treating door to door.

The public is reminded to use sturdy candleholders and to keep lit candles out of the reach of children and away from combustibles such as Halloween decorations, clothing, costumes, shrubbery and curtains.
