An active weekend in Halton Hills

Jordan, a Husky, held by volunteer Kim Robinson, did not enjoy the rabies shot given by Dr. David Mills of the Halton Hills Vet Clinic at the first Upper Credit Humane Society rabies clinic.

Saturday and Sunday were busy days in Halton Hills with lots to do. Above, Raegan Elliott, 5, dressed as a witch, does crafts with Jeanne Wilson from the Association of Early Childhood Education Halton. The group sponsored Art in the Park to mark the Week of the Child at Early Years Child Centre building on Guelph St.

Audrey Milward, instructor for Best Harbour Rug Hookers in Glen Williams, inspects one of the more than 100 pieces of work that were on display at the group's first show last weekend. Milward has been instructing the group for two years, and the works on display represented 70 of her students.

Former Blue Jay right fielder Jesse Barfield was the center of attention signing autographs for fans, following Sunday's Faith in Sports discussion at Maple Avenue Baptist Church. Barfield was joined by his son Josh, the San Diego Padres' minor league player of the year, and the Toronto Argonauts' Adrien Smith, last week's CFL defensive player-of-the-week. The trio discussed their careers as well as the importance of their faith.

Impact Statement

A terrified 3 year-old child huddles, sobbing in a dark corner of his room after being beaten by a drunken parent for spilling milk.
A colicky infant cries for 8 hours, left alone, soiled and hungry, by an immature mother.
A 6 year old cries helplessly at the guilt and shame left behind. A father's touch has destroyed her family.
A 7 year old boy watches his father beat his mother, the most recent of many terrorizing assaults this child has witnessed in his chaotic, violent household.

Terror, chaos and guilt permeate the lives of too many children - thousands of children across Halton each year have tiny pieces of their potential chipped away by fear. Fear inhibits exploration, fear inhibits learning, and fear inhibits opportunity, and when it does, it changes the child.

Child abuse in Halton? The simple Facts . . .

Child maltreatment crosses all socio-economic boundaries throughout Canada, including the Region of Halton. We know conclusively that 1900 children living in Halton are investigated for suspected maltreatment annually.

It is widely recognized that 1-in-3 female and 1-in-5 male children suffer abuse before the age of 16; meaning 19,000 children in Halton endure their abuse in silence. Children who experience trauma as a result of maltreatment suffer from a variety of short and long term difficulties including: Bedwetting (Regressive Behaviour), Sleep Disturbances (Night Terrors), Drug and Alcohol Abuse and Learning Disabilities.

Thanks to United Way of Halton Hills for their generous funding of our Halton Hills Treatment Centres which are available to our Halton Hills community residents.
