'Regal' beauty

'Wren' to fly to Manitoulin

Walking the United Way

The first annual Halton Hills Community Support and Information and United Way of Halton Hills Walk-a-thon saw participants of ages (and species) walk the routes. One walk was held in Acton while another was held in Georgetown. Above Faye Jose pulls Danielle Arbeiteu, 4 years old, in the wagon accompanied by Howard and Marlene Beitz and friend.
