Georgetown Highland Games

You may get 11 pipers piping at Christmas but in June you will get hundreds.

The Georgetown Highland Games, held each year at the Georgetown Fairgrounds, brings together the best pipe and drum bands from across Ontario. The annual games have been going strong for 27 years and the appeal is the wide variety of entertainment. In addition to the pipers, the Games' highland dancing competition attracts more than 450 dancers.

Spectators also enjoy the heavy-weight competition, including events such as the hammer throw, caber toss and farmer's walk.

There are also sheep herding demonstrations, livestock displays and the clan village featuring displays and history of numerous Scottish families.

"It's different. There's different food, different culture, it has lots of colour and there is tons of stuff for kids," says Georgetown Highland Games master of ceremonies Bill Miller. "It's a good time for the whole family."
