

Williams Mill Creative Arts Studio

If you are looking for a new piece of art or even just want to experience it, then head to Williams Mill Creative Arts Studio and Gallery on Main St. in Glen Williams.

Home to more than 30 professional artists— some just starting out in their careers while others already receiving international recognition— Williams Mill is a collection of restored historic buildings.

Artists/studios now located there include Glen Williams Glass (blown and cast glass)— Cathy Hibbits, Andrew Kuntz, Michelle Miller, Carol Nesbitt, Doug Scott, Jennifer Tarrant and Johnson Yu; Janice Smith (jewelry design); Gordon Wright (architectural stained glass); Carol-Ann Michaelson (pottery); Halton Carvers (wood carving); Tony Lolic (cane, wicker, rush restoration); Terry Antoniewicz (calligraphy/ pen&ink); Bonnie Glass (artistic couturiere); Ruth Boissin, Marilyn Laugesen, Marlene Madole (paint/printmaking); Peter

Perko (graphic design/digital art), Karen Reczuch (children's book illustration); Holly Ferguson (sculpture); Sherrill Girard (paint/encaustic); Kathy Bailey, Nancy Farrell, Marg Peter (paint/sculpture); Bev deJong (jewelry/sculpture); Sarah Delroy; Josette Luyckx and Marie Payne (wearable art); Maggie Rodman (sculpture); Vanya Ryan and Jo Walterson (paint).

Throughout the year, visitors are welcome to wander through the studio buildings and observe or interact with the working artists— but be warned some studios may be closed to the public for safety or personal reasons. However, its gallery shows a collection of Mill artists' work and has a feature show that changes about every month. It's open Wednesday to Sunday, noon to 5 p.m. Stop into the gallery first, and staff will tell you what studios are open and where to find them.
