

Acton Fall Fair

Billed as "the best little fair in Ontario", the Acton Fall Fair will be held over three days from Sept. 12-14.

The gates open Friday afternoon giving everyone a chance to take a spin on the many midway rides or try their luck at the midway games. The fair kicks into full swing Friday night with the crowning of a winner at the Miss Acton Fall Fair Pageant.

The newly-crowned Miss Acton has her first activity Saturday at noon when a parade winds its way through the streets of Acton, beginning at McKenzie-Smith Bennett School and ending at the fairgrounds.

At the fairgrounds, the many shows and attractions are already underway.

Kids can get an up-close look and even feed the animals at the always popular Ken Jen Petting Zoo, which has become a regular attraction at the fair.

Saturday and Sunday, there are a wide array of exotic and domestic breeds in the poultry barn, English and Western horse shows, cattle shows and heavy horse pulls.

In the evening, the horses give way to the roar of engines with truck and tractor pulls.

The homecraft displays give residents a chance to display their crafts as well as putting their baking skills to the test. Displays of art and photography give fairgoers plenty to look at.

The fair attracts 12,000 to 15,000 people each year.
