Canada Day in Glen Williams

Glen Williams is a busy place every July 1. As host of the Canada Day celebrations, Glen Williams kicks things off in the morning with a pancake breakfast. That's followed by a softball game against the Halton Hills Council.

At noon, the Canada Day parade winds down Confederation Street and across the Main Street bridge, ending at Glen Williams School. Community groups and neighbours decorate floats to help celebrate Canada's birthday.

A wide variety of musical groups perform throughout the day and there are demonstrations by local groups.

Glen Williams names its Citizen of the Year annually at the Canada Day celebrations and the winner is invited to cut the huge Canadian flag cake.

The day wraps up with the duck race. Hundreds of rubber ducks are dropped off the Main St. bridge and everyone gathers on the bank to cheer on their duck. The owner of the lucky duck wins a trip and other prizes are also available. Once things quiet down in Glen Williams, the festivities shift to Prospect Park in Acton. The Acton Firefighters send Canada Day out with a bang with an excellent fireworks display.
