Squeezed between generations? Investment seminar to discuss coping

Colin Brookes, the Edward Jones investment representative in Georgetown, will host a free program on Tuesday, Nov. 26, 6 p.m., designed to give advice to adults caring for their aging parents or relatives.

Guests will hear, via a live interactive satellite broadcast, from experts who will address information on the complete range of the physical, emotional and financial issues that face those involved in caring for an older person.

"Thousands of Canadians take care of their aging parents or other relatives, while at the same time coping with their own families and holding down full-time jobs," said Brookes. "This broadcast is an invaluable guide for caregivers. It will provide reassurance, information and workable solutions as you take on the caregiver role"

To reserve a seat or for more information on alternative viewing times, call Brookes at 905-873-7630.
