Bennett Centre seeks public's input

Bennett Health Care Centre wants to hear from the public about its housing needs as it considers different options for property it plans to develop into seniors or retirement housing.

The centre is considering a range of options for the 17 acres of developable land south of the CNR tracks on Princess Anne Dr., including 50-plus adult independent living apartments and residential retirement suites providing a modest level of care.

Public input on housing needs are being sought at three different Housing Needs Discussion Forums set for three Wednesday sessions on November 27, December 4 and December 11 in Georgetown.

Anyone interested in providing information regarding their housing needs, or the needs of a relative or friend are invited to attend one of the sessions.

"We are aware there are a variety of housing needs in the community that are not being met but we are not sure where the greatest need lies," said Ernie Bodnar, chair of the Bennett Land Use Committee. "By going out to the public and asking what they are personally looking for we hope to zero in on the greatest need."

"We are hoping that people will help us out by talking to us about their specific needs. We need to understand what square footage people are looking for and how many bedrooms they need. Quality and cost are also key areas that we need to get a handle on."

Bodnar said the centre is seeking rezoning for the property to allow for 100 apartment/condominium units, 100 assisted-care units, 128 long-term care beds, and ancillary uses such as offices and adult daycare.

He said options being considered for the apartment/condominium units include rentals, life lease and equity lease tenure.

For more information or to register to attend one of the sessions call Barb Allen 905-873-0115 ext. 47512. Space is limited and pre-registration is required. Those attending the sessions will be placed on the project's priority contact list, be kept informed of progress and be first in line for a chance to live in the new community.

Where Child Abuse Hurts Most

Sometimes the worst scars of child abuse can't be seen. Whether physical or emotional, abuse attacks a child's self-esteem and emotional development, leaving long-term emotional trauma and pain. You can help prevent child abuse by being a nurturing parent or caregiver. By letting children know they are special, competent and loved, you can help them develop positive self-images and happier futures.

If you feel overwhelmed, angry or frustrated as a parent, help is out there for you. Look in your area for support groups and services, or talk to a trusted friend, family member, pastor or doctor about what you can do to protect and support your child. If we all do our part to prevent child abuse, we'll get to the heart of the matter.
