

Georgetown library branch to hold Sunday book sale

The Georgetown branch of the Halton Hills Library is holding a book sale, on Sunday, Dec. 1, noon to 4 p.m. Info: 905-873-2681.

Special area

The children's services staff at the Georgetown branch of Halton Hills Public Library have created a special reading area just for 6-13 year olds Young library patrons immersed in a story can snuggle up in the new "Reading Tree House".

Winter programs

Halton Hills Public Library offers programs for children (six months to five years), beginning in January. Registration is by lottery, and forms are available at both branches Dec. 3-28, or at www.library.hhpl.on.ca.

Please be prepared to show proof of child's age. For more information, pick up the library's newsletter or call 905-873-2681 ext. 2515 or 519-853-0301.

Book party

There will be lots of Arthur the Aardvark fun on P.A. day December 6, for children aged five years old and up. Crafts, games and other activities will keep kids busy from 2-3 p.m. Pre-registration is required as there are limited spaces. Parents can register in person or by phone at either branch: Georgetown, 905-873-2681 x 2515; Acton, 519-853-0301.
