Police caution residents of home repair scams

Halton Regional Police are advising the public to be cautious when unsolicited home repair workers come knocking.

The Fraud Bureau is offering some tips to avoid being the victim of a home repair scam.

- Know exactly what service is being offered. Is the company providing advice, identifying what they see as the problems or pressuring you into letting them do the job? Obtain information about the company, get in writing the physical address of the company and the phone number.

- Don't agree to any payments up front. Obtain all documents with regards to the work that is to be done and then do your own research. Compare prices with other companies. Contact the Better Business Bureau or the Ontario Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations.

- Be skeptical about low prices. Obtain information in writing from the company about the product, total price, delivery or installation time, cancellation policies and terms of the warranty. Ask for and check references.

- Resist pressure. Legitimate companies will be happy to give a person time to make a decision. It is probably a scam if they demand a person act immediately or won't take no for an answer. Take the time and be an educated consumer.

- Guard personal information. Do not provide credit card, social insurance number or bank account information to anyone unless you are dealing with a reputable credit company or bank.

If you have any suspicions about the legitimacy of a home repair offered to you, or have come under intense pressure to sign a contract, contact Halton Police at 905-878-5511.

You may forget where the fuel goes.

Along with improvements in diesel science that include quieter engines and more power, Volkswagen's advanced TDI engine can cover more than 1,000 kilometres* of highway on a single tank of fuel. (Which, incidentally, is accessed just by the right rear wheel arch.)
