AHS presents a night of music, art and drama

Acton High School is hosting its annual Arts Night 7 p.m. on Thursday June 5.

The evening will consist of Acton High School's Jazz Band, which will be playing toe-tapping numbers to accompany the Grade 12 art class's brilliant displays of creativity.

Premiering will be Acton High student Raechelle Handley's second play, Playwrites, featuring the talents of Hazen Andrews, Chris Dwyer, Jen Everson, Julia Niblock, Amanda Williams and directed by Handley. This comic drama tells the story of four friends trying to write a school play, but the problem is, they all have writer's block. While trying to overcome their writer's block, they stumble upon a variety of discoveries about themselves and each other, including the fact that they have no detective skills or musical talent, but they do have the mutual support of one another.

An evening filled with expression, inspiration and laughter opens with the doors at 7 p.m., curtain at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $5 at the door for general admission.

Play euchre in Limehouse

Limehouse Women's Institute hosts euchre at the Limehouse Memorial Hall on Thursday, June 5, 7:30 p.m. Lunch provided.
