Smith to run for Green Party

The Green Party will be fielding candidates in all 103 provincial ridings for the Oct. 2 election, including Halton.

Matt Smith, of Oakville, is the candidate for Halton and said, while the environment may not top the list of issues for the upcoming election, it should.

"While the environment may seem like only one issue, it is one that impacts issues often considered more important," said Smith.

Smith knows winning a seat at Queen's Park won't be easy, but said the party continues to make gains, pointing to British Columbia's provincial election where the Green Party got 13 per cent of the popular vote. Still, that did not translate into a seat for the party.

Smith is a strong advocate of preventing smog. He believes that in order to secure a lasting economy it is important to protect "a better way to live" for health and educational needs.

He was elected months prior to the budget and has been traveling throughout Halton as he's also begun his unique hobby—site-seeing for Canadian flags.
