

Police blotter

Intruder enters baby's room

Police are looking for a man after two incidents in town, including one on Windsor Rd. in which a woman saw a man leaving her three-month-old daughter's bedroom Sunday evening.

At about 11:50 p.m. police report a woman heard a noise coming from her daughter's room. She went to investigate and saw a man leaving the room. She yelled at the man who fled from the house. Nothing was taken.

Police were called and searched the area with the canine unit but did not find the man who is believed to have left in an unknown vehicle.

The man is described as white, possibly of European descent, 40 to 50 years old, 5'9", clean shaven, with short dark hair, average build and a slim face. He was wearing a red patterned shirt that was unbuttoned at the time, dark casual pants, and dark shoes.

Police believe the man entered the home through an unlocked front door and think he may be the same man involved in another incident in town at a Hepburn Cr. home Thursday morning.

At 8:20 a.m. police report a man attempted to open the locked front door of the home and was also seen peeking through the front door window, then sat down on the front step and smoked a cigarette. The homeowner confronted the man, who fled, and was last seen walking northbound on Hepburn Cr.

The man in that incident has a similar description. He is 40 to 50 years old, tall, slim, unshaven, with grey facial hair, and a skinny face. He was carrying a cross-shoulder grey bag with a yellow stripe on it.

Anyone with information is asked to call Detective Bob Andrews at 905-878-5511 ext. 2106 or call Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS (8477).

No need for alarm

Halton Police received several calls from the public about a man driving a van in the 15 Sideroad and Belmont Blvd. area who frightened a teenage girl last week.

After investigation, police learned the man was a worker in the area and there was no criminal intent in the incident. Police say there is no reason for further investigation or for the public to be concerned.

Assault charges laid

A Fergus man is facing charges after an incident on Victoria St. in Acton Saturday evening. Police report a group of friends were socializing in front of a friend's house when a man confronted them and told them to get off the street, then took out a pocketknife and held it against the chest of a member of the group. Police were called. Charged with possession of a weapon dangerous to the public peace, and assault with a weapon is David Jansen, 35, of First Line, Fergus.

Impaired driving charge

An Acton man was charged with impaired driving and having over 80 mg of alcohol in 100 ml of blood after a two-vehicle accident at Park Ave. and Mill St. in Acton Sunday afternoon. No one was injured in the accident. Charged is Gregory Tucker, 61, of Erin Township.
