

A walk into the past

Esqueing Historical Society member Mark Rowe dressed up to lead a tour of the Glen Williams cemetery for the Society. About 30 people, including Eva Murdock and Ene Sargent in front, came, most walking up the steep hill on Prince Street where the group paused in the tour to enjoy the great view of the Glen. The group then returned to the Town Hall for refreshments and a chance to peruse the great historical photograph collection of the town hall, mounted on the wall.

What is ADHD?

The Parent Education Network and the ADHD Committee are presenting a seminar to assist parents of children with Attention Deficit Hyperactive Disorder, or Attention Deficit Disorder on Thursday, Oct. 16.

Dr Jill Pickett Ph.D., clinical psychologist, will speak at the John Elliott Theatre (Halton Hills Cultural Centre), 9 Church St., Georgetown. She will direct her comments to parents of 5 to 12 year olds, but anyone is welcome.

The tickets are $5 and are available at The Freckled Lion Bookstore on Main St., Georgetown, and the Ontario Early Years Centres in Milton and Georgetown.

There will be a series of workshops in the weeks following the seminar. The Georgetown workshops will be held at the Ontario Early Years Centre at 96 Guelph St. on Tuesday evenings from October 28 to November 25. The Milton series will be held at the Ontario Early Years Centre at 917 Nipissing Road on Monday evenings from October 27 to November 24. All workshops are from 7 to 9 p.m.

The topics covered are Working with the School System, Family and Sibling Issues, Social Skills and Behaviour Management, Understanding Medication, and Self Help.

Space in these workshops is limited to 30 persons. The cost of the workshops is $15 and includes the Oct. 16 presentation. Tickets can be purchased by calling 905-877-2238.

I strongly urge parents of children with ADHD or ADD to attend the presentation. Even if you think your preschool child may have some of these issues you can have some questions answered.

You may ask what this has to do with policing. ADHD and ADD children frequently have behaviour issues, and come into conflict with police. The more parents understand their child, the more they can help them to avoid these potential conflicts.

If you have any questions about this, or any other police issues, contact me at 905-878-5511 or laurel.barnett@hrps.on.ca
