Slate set for municipal election day

The slate for the November 10 municipal election ballot was set at 5 p.m. Friday when the nomination period closed.

Both longtime school trustees, Ethel Gardiner (Halton District School Board) and Irene McCauley (Halton Catholic District School Board) were acclaimed. Ward 2 local councillors Bryan Lewis and Joan Robson were also acclaimed. There were a few last minute surprises Friday which resulted in races in various wards and a familiar face for the mayor's job— former Mayor Marilyn Serjeantson.

Councillors defend actions after allegation

Moya Johnson has rejected allegations that she has broken pecuniary conflict of interest rules.

As a delegation at last week's council meeting, Norval resident

Ted Thompson accused Johnson, and fellow councillors Jane Fogal and Bryan Lewis of possibly contravening the Municipal Conflict of Interest Act rules when they voted on an in-camera motion at the July 7 meeting.

That was the same meeting when North Halton Golf and Country Club president David McNally suggested former Chief Administrative Officer Steve Andrews had "interfered" and Mattamy Homes turned over nine acres of Arbor Valley open space to the town that had originally been intended for the golf course.

Speculation has been ripe in the community for months that the in-camera vote was about the McNally accusation and it precipitated Andrews' departure. A motion, moved by Johnson and seconded by

Wine Connection returns

Independent & Free Press readers will have another opportunity to order Ontario wines of superior quality and value, beginning on Friday.

The Independent & Free Press Wine Connection opens for orders on Friday (Oct. 3) 8 a.m. and closes at 8 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 9.

These winners have been hand-picked by two of Canada's foremost wine experts— Gordon Stimmell, wine critic for The Toronto Star and Dan Kislenko, wine critic for The Hamilton Spectator.

Because the wines are from smaller volume producers, none of them are even available from the LCBO.

Remember to check out the ad on pg. 4. Then on Friday log on to www.metrolandwineconnection.com to check out all the options available to you.
