Camera Club contest this weekend

nce again, Halton Hills Camera Club will be hosting its annual two-day photo competition, Capture the Hills, October 4 and 5.

The competition runs from 7 a.m. October 4, until 10 p.m. October 5, and involves photographers combing the Halton Hills area, shooting anything that catches their eye. The contest is limited to 60 non-professional photographers.

The entry fee is $25 which includes one roll of 24 exposure film and processing. All pictures must be taken on the film provided and within the competition boundaries of Halton Hills. Film must be dropped off at Halton camera Exchange before 10 p.m. on October 5 to be eligible.

The finished proofs can be picked up at Halton Camera Exchange October 10 to 11, and the competitors can choose their entries for the various categories.

Prints must be returned for judging on or before Friday, October 17 to Halton Camera Exchange a maximum of six prints per photographer, (two in each category.)

As usual, there are four categories: People, Creatures & Critters, Scenery & Architecture, Foliage & Flowers, and a Junior Category.

The Junior Category is open to persons 13 and under with a $10 entry fee. Parental consent is required.

Prizes will be awarded for the top three photos in each category as determined by a special panel of judges. Halton Hills Mayor Kathy Gastle, will also select the Mayor's Choice for a special award.

Winning photos will be unveiled and prizes will be awarded at the Halton Hills Civic Centre, Thursday, Oct. 30, at 7:30 p.m. All submitted entries will be on display.

Entry forms may be picked up at Halton Camera Exchange, Halton Hills Civic Centre in Georgetown and the Acton or Georgetown Libraries.
