Privacy law to affect businesses

Starting January 1, 2004, every Canadian business—retailer, manufacturer, home-based— will have to comply with federal privacy laws. Businesses will be required to protect the personal information of their customers, employees, members and others who have provided data. Companies will be required to put into place policies and systems to manage the collection, use and dissemination of such personal information.

Find out how this will affect your business at Halton Hills Chamber of Commerce's Breakfast Before Business on Nov. 20, 7:30-9 p.m. at North Halton Golf Club. Registration deadline is Nov. 18. Call 905-877-7119, fax 905-877-5117 or www.haltonhillschamber.on.ca
