Bang-O-Rama returns for long weekend

The Victoria Day holiday weekend will be celebrated with a bang at the 21st Optimist Club of Georgetown Bang-O-Rama.

The event, at Georgetown Fairgrounds, will feature a midway that opens at 4 p.m. Friday and runs all weekend long.

"We will have all the new rides," said Danny Edwards of the Optimist Club. He said the rides are geared to younger kids—ranging in age up to 15.

Edwards said in light of the riot at last year's Georgetown Fall Fair organizers have worked closely with Halton Regional Police Service to ensure there will be adequate security at the event.

On Monday, the park and midway open at 10 a.m., and from noon to dusk everyone is invited check out the street rods in the Classic Car Show.

"We hope to have at least 100 cars there," said Edwards.

Music will be provided by The Royal Canadian Air Cadets 756 Squadron Band at 7 p.m. and Lorne Scots Pipes & Drums at 8 p.m.

A fireworks display will be the finale of the event, set for 9:30 p.m.

Edwards said the Optimist Club has hired Hands Fireworks to put on the display, which he says is updated from the previous year.

Admission is $5, and a family pass (for two adults and four children) is $20. Advance tickets are available at Georgetown Cinema until May 24 for $4.

Parking is available at the Civic Centre and downtown municipal parking lot.

Playing it smart

Halton Regional Police Constable Laurel Barnett showed Georgetown Christian School student Sophia Vetro, 6, the proper way to adjust her bicycle helmet as the school held Risk Watch Day to build awareness of safety. In addition to Halton Police being on hand, Halton Hills Fire Protection and Prevention Services and Halton Emergency Services personnel were available to give the kids pointers on safety.
