Transform your old deck with these simple steps

With the warmer temperatures upon us, backyards across the country will soon become the gathering places of choice for many friends and families. Now is the time to transform your weather-beaten wooden deck from an eyesore into a beautiful outdoor living space.

Here are some simple steps you can follow to help give your deck that much needed facelift from the refinishing experts at Swing Paints.

According to Swing's Eric Chaimberg, the first step you need to take is to tighten loose screws and nails and secure floor boards on your deck. Look for mildew or rotting wood by inspecting underneath and then sink any protruding nails.

A good cleaning will remove dirt grime and the gray colour from your deck. Bleach is recommended to eliminate mould and mildew.

To preserve that natural look, you need to protect your surface. Chaimberg recommends a polymerized tung oil-based finish such as Circa1850 Exterior Varnish. "It's a clear, tough coating varnish that protects and beautifies all exterior wood surfaces," he said. Circa1850 Exterior Varnish contains transparent absorbers to screen out UV rays and inhibit the greying and fading effects of the sun.

To create a two-toned look on your deck, try finishing your railings and posts in a different accent colour. Chaimberg says that Circa 1850 Exterior Varnish now comes with a selection of tinting colours that will help you create a customized look. For more information visit www.circa1850.com.
