Set for June 19

Pine Cone Music to host Battle of the Bands

Pine Cone Music is looking for bands ready to go to war.

The music store is hosting a Battle of the Bands in front of the store, 1-6 p.m. on Saturday, June 19.

Band members must be 19 years of age or younger.

According to Pine Cone's Peter McCracken the idea is to provide some young bands with a forum to showcase what they have accomplished as well as an opportunity to play to a public audience.

"We are also trying to expose the idea of the musical arts in a positive, upbeat atmosphere that will benefit and unite our community," he added.

Bands can register at the store or through its Web site, www.pineconemusic.com. Space is limited.

First prize is studio recording time and a CD, courtesy of Sal's Sound and second prize is a Web site design and one year hosting courtesy of Orchard Studios.

There will also be a prize table for an auction as well as a charity barbecue.

Visit www.pineconemusic.com or call 905-873-8478 for more information. The store is located at 360 Guelph St., Unit 40, Georgetown.

Writers' group to host workshop

Ever stayed up all night reading a book? In the West Side Writers Coalition workshop, 18 Secrets of Writing a Page-turner, experts will show you how to build that kind of suspense.

Workshop leader Brian Henry has been a book editor for 21 years and he will help you put into practice the techniques professionals use, on every page and in every kind of fiction, to create drama and tension.

He teaches creative writing at Ryerson University and George Brown College and has led workshops from Boston to Buffalo and from Sarnia to Ottawa. He has helped many of his students to get published.

This creative writing workshop will be held on Saturday, May 29, 1-5 p.m. in the Glen Williams Town Hall. The cost is $32.

To register, call Diana Revelins, 905-891-2354 or e-mail b.henry@3web.net
