

OUT OF THIS WORLD PRICING

I am penning this letter hours after turning 46 years old, and I can tell you this: I am waaayyy past middle age. I can feel it. Guys like me don't last long anyway. However, I assure you I will last through September, as I am on a mission. A mission to annihilate the target Daimler Chrysler has set for our store.

WE WILL sell 75 cars, trucks & Jeeps by September 31st (yeah it might take me an extra day).

How will we accomplish this?

Simple, I've added the Used Car Manager title to my portfolio which virtually means: If you're got a trade, we've got a deal. Yessiree, for the rest of the month we won't let logic get in the way of emotion. Combine that with the word on the street: "Auty's about as sharp as a marble" and you will fare very well this month at Georgetown Chrysler Dodge Jeep.

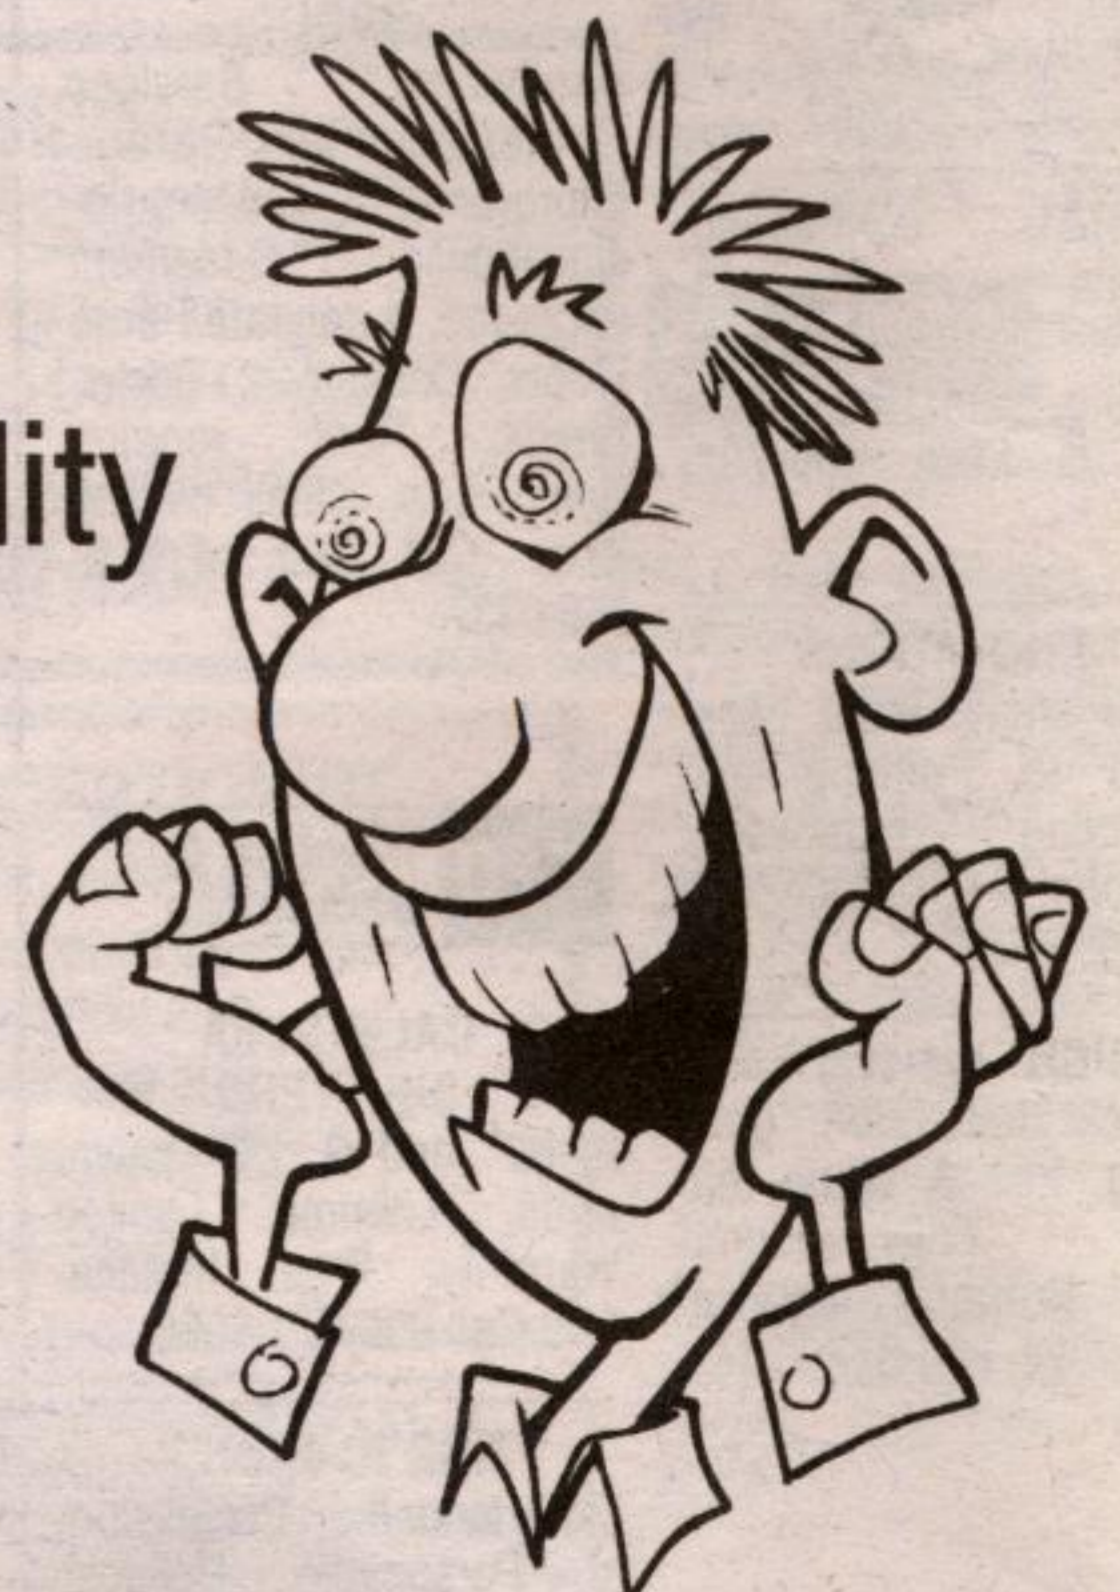

Plus depending on your selection there's now NO payments till January to compliment 0% financing & huge discounts.

So.....come take advantage.

I'm feeling old & vulnerable with an obvious hint of senility settling in.

See you soon.
