Giving thanks

In October, kitchens across Canada will fill with the aroma of roasting turkey, and other savory delights - for the traditional feast of Thanksgiving. And all of us will set aside our own daily, individual lives to celebrate and give thanks together.

Although Thanksgiving remains rooted in its origins as a celebration of the harvest (and what would we do without the traditional pumpkin pie?), it has also become a day in which we also give thanks for our many blessings - and especially for family and home.

Here at Mortgage Intelligence, we're proud to play a role in helping provide a place where family and friends can join together - because those are the special times that make a house a home.

During the holiday weekend, you'll find yourself gathered around a bountiful table with many of the people who are nearest to your heart. What better reminder, we think, of the reasons for giving thanks? And that's a warm thought to share.

Happy Thanksgiving to you and yours.
