

Ebenezer hosts information series on Philip Yancey's view of Jesus

Ebenezer United Church presents a series of information lectures based on the book, The Jesus I Never Knew by Philip Yancey, on Wednesday evenings, Oct. 13 to Nov. 24, 7:30-9 p.m.

Using both the book and Yancey's collection of movie scenes from 15 film versions about Jesus, participants will get a chance to press beyond popular notions and stereotypes of Jesus to obtain a fresh, uncluttered perspective on history's central figure—his radical claims, challenging teachings, and his effect on others ... including you.

For more information contact Mark Rutledge at 905-854-2423 or 519-856-7303 or e-mail mark.rutledge@sympatico.ca. Ebenezer Church is located on the Guelph Line, between 20 and 25 Sideroads.

Public library has space for more preschoolers in fall programs

There are still some spaces available in some programs for preschool children at Halton Hills Public Library. Spaces will be filled on a first-come first-serve basis. To find out which programs have openings, call the Georgetown branch at 905-873-2681 ext. 2520 or the Acton branch at 519-853-0301.

You will be required to complete a registration form, and to show proof of child's age. If you can't get into the program you want, don't forget Family Story Time in the Georgetown branch on Tuesdays at 2 p.m. and on Saturdays at 10:45 a.m. Family Story Time is drop-in, and no registration is required.

North Halton Red Cross needs drivers

Can you give someone a lift? Drivers with the North Halton branch of the Canadian Red Cross help those in need get to medical appointments, adult day programs and other activities. For details, call 905-875-1459.

Willow Park Ecology Centre prepares for winter at the annual Falling Leaves Festival

Willow Park Ecology Centre invites residents and visitors to drop in on Saturday and Sunday, October 16 and 17 for its second annual Falling Leaves Festival, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day.

The centre is located in Norval just off Mary St., just east of Georgetown on Hwy. 7.

In addition to putting the park to bed for the season, there will be activities such as Pumpkin Carving (results donated to the Seniors Centre 50th birthday bash), rock painting, Toad House building and much more.

The winning photos of the second annual photo contest, held in summer, will also be on display.

Come to the centre to see the new alternative energy display in action, go on a tour to see what Halton Hills students have been doing in their Grade 3 program, and witness the activities in the wetland and butterfly garden. Refreshments will be served.

This is a wonderful opportunity for high school students to gain some volunteer hours early in the school year and help out with the cleanup chores at the park. Bring your work gloves, a shovel and make sure you have good work shoes or boots.

More information about the Willow Park Ecology Centre is available on its website: www.willowparkecology.com.

For further information about the Festival, contact the co-ordinator, Ruth Kuchinad at 905-702-9055 or ruth@willowparkecology.com.

Georgetown seniors are urged to attend Showcase and flu clinic

Here it is October already and activities are moving ahead rapidly.

The fashion show put on by Alia and Tan Jay was well attended. Their new fall line of clothes were modeled by several ladies from the centre. Draws for door prizes were held during the coffee/tea break.

Many of the members sat down to a delicious Thanksgiving lunch on Tuesday, Oct. 7 served up by Eleanor Murphy and Jo Morra. Following lunch, that zany drama group entertained us.

I have been asked to remind you there will be no flu shots at the centre this year. Instead you are encouraged to attend the Halton Hills Seniors Information Showcase and Flu Shot clinic on Tuesday, Oct. 19, between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. at the Gellert Community Centre.

As well as being able to receive your flu shot, you will be able to view the exhibits and demonstrations, crafts, art and photography as well as take part in the draws.

If you will need a ride out to the Gellert Centre, please call the Georgetown Seniors Centre the day before to arrange transportation. The number to call is 905-877-6444.

It's never too early to mark your calendar for the Christmas bazaar to be held Saturday, Nov. 6. A good place to get your Christmas shopping and baking done.

What a wonderful array of activities at your centre— shuffleboard, chess, bingo, bid euchre, carpet bowling, euchre, cribbage, genealogy, square dancing, line dancing, Tai Chi, exercise groups, foot clinic, driver testing. What's more to want, seniors?

Come out! Get involved! Make new friends! Share in the good times at the Georgetown Seniors Centre.

Halton Region – Preparing For Emergencies

The Emergency Management Act, requires that all municipalities in the Province conduct annual emergency exercises to test and evaluate their emergency programs. A "mock emergency" exercise is being planned in conjunction with the municipalities, hospitals, school boards and local emergency responders to take place at Burloak Dr. and Upper Middle Rd. in Burlington on Thursday, October 14, 2004 from 9 am to noon. As a safety precaution, the area will be closed to local traffic from 7 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Exercises of this nature enable us to test the systems that are already in place to ensure that we are capable of handling any emergency that may arise. Contact us for more information.
