Wanted: Halton Police auxiliary officers

Halton Regional Police Service is looking for new auxiliary officers and is hosting an information session on Wednesday, October 20.

The session will be held at the community room at Halton Regional Police Service headquarters, 1151 Bronte Rd., Oakville.

Auxiliary officers must provide a minimum of 12 hours each month assisting regular police officers.

Auxiliary officers receive over 100 hours of training, including legal training in powers of arrest, ethics and the criminal code, traffic direction duties, notebooks, the court process and use of force training.

They commonly work with police officers at events such as fall fairs, Christmas parades, and other large-scale yearly events. They are also on patrol with community patrol officers on busy Friday and Saturday nights.

Volunteer application forms can be picked up at any Halton Regional Police station or the Police Service's website at www.hrps.on.ca under the volunteer programs category. To apply to become an auxiliary officer forward the volunteer application to Sgt. Kevin Maher, Halton Regional Police Service, 1151 Bronte Rd., Oakville, ON, L6M 3L1.

More information on the minimum requirements for auxiliary applicants is also available at the Halton Police website (address above).

Where Child Abuse Hurts Most

Sometimes the worst scars of child abuse can't be seen. Whether physical or emotional, abuse attacks a child's self-esteem and emotional development, leaving long-term emotional trauma and pain. You can help prevent child abuse by being a nurturing parent or caregiver. By letting children know they are special, competent and loved, you can help them develop positive self-images and happier futures.

If you feel overwhelmed, angry or frustrated as a parent, help is out there for you. Look in your area for support groups and services, or talk to a trusted friend, family member, pastor or doctor about what you can do to protect and support your child. If we all do our part to prevent child abuse, we'll get to the heart of the matter.
