Top Hat Gala to raise funds for new Adult Drop-in Centre

The first annual Top Hat Gala to raise money for Community Living North Halton's new Adult Drop-in Centre is set for Friday (Oct. 22).

Debbie Glover of Studio 49 and John Vieira of JV Clothing will host the elegant event at Granite Ridge Golf club beginning at 5:30 p.m.

The evening will include a fashion show featuring clothes from Studio 49 and JV Clothing, a silent auction, dancing, and a gourmet dinner.

All money raised at the event will go to Community Living's new Adult Drop-in Centre set to open early next year.

The non-profit charitable organization provides support and services to north Halton individuals with developmental disabilities.

Glover said she decided to host the event because she wanted "to do something for a forgotten charity."

"I think mental illness and disability (developmental) are in all our families if we look closely," said Glover.

Heather Thompson, manager of volunteer services with Community Living North Halton, is thrilled about the event.

"I think it's fantastic. The community is really pitching in," said Thompson. "The fact they've taken this on is just wonderful."

She said the organization gets no government funding for the drop-in program geared to adults over the age of 30.

The program will enable adults with developmental disabilities to enhance their personal growth, give them opportunities to socialize, and participate in a variety of leisure activities.

Glover said some items to be included in the gala's silent auction include a trip for two to Puerto Plata, golf packages at North Halton and Granite Ridge golf clubs and Raptor tickets.

Tickets for the gala are $150 each and available through Glover at 905-877-0226 or Marjorie Hryciw at 905-878-7189.
