

Mystery trip was a Red Feather day for Georgetown Seniors

Boarding the bus at Mold-Masters SportsPlex at 8:15 a.m. on Thanksgiving Day in search of the "Red Feather" was to prove to be a wonderful experience. Jim Healey put together a mystery trip that even our resident travel organizer, Grant, did not know about.

Nature provided us with an unbelievable show of fall colours as our bus took us to the first stop that turned out to be Fenlon Falls. Here we boarded a small cruise boat and headed out onto the lake for a tour of Millionaire's row. A delicious turkey dinner with all the trimmings was served. Once back on land we walked over to the museum to enjoy hot apply cider as we traveled back in time among the artifacts.

On the bus again, we were off to our next mystery stop—a winery. Here we sampled three fruit wines and as we left I noticed most of the passengers were carrying a bag that looked like it contained a bottle or two.

Last stop was a market where you could load up on food or crafts. Our final destination was back in Georgetown. We are all looking forward to next year's mystery trip. Thanks Jim for planning such a great day.

I hope you all enjoyed the wonderful lunch that was not served. My apologies to all for getting the newspaper article in ahead of time; the red has now left my face. The reason for the cancellation was due to a breakdown in the cooler that held the food. It was best to be on the safe side to cancel.

By the looks of the crowd of people at the Gellert Community Centre on Tuesday of this week many of you took advantage to learn more about services offered to seniors in Halton Hills. I hope you also took advantage of the free flu shot clinic. Keep in mind that there will not be a clinic at the centre this year.

Some people have been wondering where the name "Gellert" came from. The Community Centre has been named after the Gellert family, owners of Mold-Masters and generous contributors to many aspects of life in Halton Hills. It is our way of showing our appreciation for their generosity.

If you have not been to the Gellert Community Centre yet, I suggest you take some time to go out and see what is available to you.

If you are interested in the concept of the Georgetown Seniors Centre moving into the A&P building, please let your councillors know your feelings. It doesn't necessarily mean it will happen but they will know where seniors stand on the issue.

Come out to the Georgetown Seniors Centre! Get involved! Make new friends! Share in the good times!
