Don't tamper with alarms— fire dept.

Halton Hills Fire Protection and Prevention Services remind area residents that they can be charged if they tamper with fire protection equipment after a fire in a King St. apartment Wednesday.

Firefighters were called to the building (which contains six apartments) at 9:20 a.m. and quickly extinguished the blaze, that caused about $1,000 in damage, and was burning in a concealed space above the bathroom ceiling.

"What is most concerning for us is that it appears that smoke alarms that the building owner had installed for the protection of all the building occupants has been intentionally disconnected," said

John Martin, chief of prevention and public education for the fire department. "Had this fire occurred at 3:30 in the morning instead of when people were awake, the results could have been disastrous.

Martin said anyone who tampers with fire protection equipment could be charged under the Fire Protection and Prevention Act, and fined up to $25,000.

A fire department spokesperson credits an occupant of the building who discovered the blaze for containing it until firefighters arrived.

Fire damage was limited to the ceiling joists and rafters, and the cause is believed to be electrical, related to a ceiling fan.
