Internet tips for kids, parents

The Internet is an amazing tool that we can use to access information, keep in touch with people, and entertain ourselves.

No company or government controls the Internet, which allows both good and bad possibilities. It can be a great vehicle for criminals and sexual predators.

Tips for Kids

- NEVER give anyone personal information, especially your address, phone number, or where you go to school
- NEVER agree to meet anyone whom you have "talked to" on-line without checking with your parents
- NEVER send anyone your picture
- NEVER respond to any messages that make you feel uncomfortable. Tell your parents
- NEVER send rude or insulting messages

There are websites for parents to find out about computers and the Internet. Take the time to learn and be informed, to ensure your child's safety.

Tips for Parents

- Know what your child is doing on the Internet.
- Install computer-monitoring software so that you will know the websites and chat rooms that they are visiting, and the e-mail messages that your child is sending.
- Locate the computer in a "family" room rather than the child's bedroom or isolated in the basement.

- Reinforce with your child that they should never give out any personal information on the computer.
 - Be aware that there are many scams on the computer. Do not send money, or use your credit card to purchase unless you are certain that it is a creditable company that you are dealing with.
 - Keep an eye on your credit card bills.
- If you are suspicious of any online activity, contact the police. The Halton Regional Police website is www.hrps.on.ca. You can contact me at laurel.barnett@hrps.on.ca or 905-878-5511 ext 2120.

Father, son raise funds in CN Tower Stair Climb

A Georgetown father and son, Ralph and Brandon Van Haeren, took part in the recent Enbridge CN Tower Stair Climb for United Way.

Brandon, 12, raised $365 and made the climb in 14 minutes, 33 seconds.

Ralph finished the climb in 14 minutes 18 seconds, and raised $50.

Public Meetings on the Golden Horseshoe Greenbelt

A Greenbelt is key to permanently protecting greenspace and containing urban sprawl in the Golden Horseshoe.

Building on the advice of the Greenbelt Task Force and guided by the input of hundreds of individuals, municipalities, more than a thousand written submissions and the advice of more than 60 stakeholder groups, the Government of Ontario has developed draft Greenbelt legislation and a draft plan.

We want to hear what you think.
