

Diocese begins campaign for future priests

The Diocese of Hamilton has launched a new campaign encouraging students to become a priest, brother or sister.

Christ the King Catholic Secondary School in Georgetown and local parishes have received the vocation awareness poster calling for "A special kind of person ... A special kind of service" and to "explore God's plan".

The campaign is a sequel to one launched four years ago aimed at encouraging men to think about becoming priest.

"With 19 men in seminary and four about to be ordained, we've seen very good results from the combined efforts of our campaign and other vocation ministry efforts, but it's time to refresh the message and reach out once again," said Reverend Mark Gatto, Vocation director for the Diocese of Hamilton, earlier this month.

The four ordinations that were held on May 7 were the most in the Diocese since 1995.
